

Increase legal department productivity with the intake and automation of legal work.

Centralize legal requests with automated workflows that triage, assign, and connect matter information with your existing legal technology. Streamline the intake of requests from the business with integrated forms to gain greater visibility into the legal department's operational performance.

- Route legal work to the right member of the legal team with logic-based automated rules.
- Intake requests with self-service forms that integrate with your legal technology and can be customized as required with little to no corporate IT resources.
- Gather data on who the legal department interacts with and make informed decisions on the performance of the legal department.
- Reduce manual work with automated compliance, business rule enforcement, and reporting.
- Outsource the design, customization, and deployment of automated workflows, so your team can focus on practicing law and running your business.
